What time do you think Charlie woke up?

What did he do when he woke up?

What did he have for breakfast?

How did he get to the chocolate factory?

What happened while he was waiting outside the chocolate factory?

Dear Diary,

I woke up at 5.30 this morning because I was so excited about what lay ahead of me today. I was jumping around the house and accidentally woke up the rest of the family! My mum tried to feed me some watery cabbage soup for breakfast but I was far too nervous to eat it. The time came for Grandpa Joe and I to leave the house. We waved farewell to the rest of the family and I gave them lots of hugs because I was really going to miss them. We walked to the factory (I was trying to run but Grandpa Joe couldn't keep up). We arrived at Willy Wonka's incredible chocolate factory and saw hundreds of excited people. Loads of photographers were trying to take my picture but I was far too excited to even notice. This was it, I was about to enter Willy Wonka's amazing factory and see the secrets that lay inside. I am the luckiest boy on earth.
