

MONDAY

Read
the rest of the book...

What do you notice?

The pebble in my pocket is round and smooth and brown. I found it on the ground.
My pebble has been on top of mountains and under the sea. It has been buried in ice and buried in rock. It has been covered in drying sand and tropical forest.
It has been flung and dropped, frozen, soaked and baked, squeezed and squashed.
It has been stood on and sheltered under and used. It has travelled huge distances, over immense periods of time.

My pebble is four hundred and eighty million years old. So far.
Keep travelling, pebble!

Every pebble in the world is different from every other pebble.
Every pebble has its own story. Pick up a pebble and you are holding a little piece of the history of our planet.

Complete this grid with your opinions about the book:

The Pebble in my Pocket
My likes	My dislikes
My connections	My questions

Discuss your views with your family. Share what you liked and didn't like about the book. What did you enjoy?

TUESDAY

Returning to the front cover, have you answered any of your original questions about the book?

Is there anything else now you'd like to ask the author or learn about?

Book Review

Book review by: _____

Title: _____

Author: _____

Non fiction

☐

Fiction

☐

What is the book about?

Who would this book be suitable for? Age/interests

Would you/would you not recommend the book? Why?

Book Illustration

WEDNESDAY

Be an author!

Every pebble has its own story...

My pebble is four hundred and eighty million years old. So far.
Keep travelling, pebble!

Every pebble in the world is different from every other pebble.
Every pebble has its own story. Pick up a pebble and you are holding a little piece of the history of our planet.

Could you write the story of where another object has come from?

Here are just some ideas:

You could write the story of...

- a feather (the bird that it fell from and the egg that the bird hatched from...)
- a tomato (the supermarket it came from, the truck that brought it to the supermarket, the farm that it grew on...)
- a raindrop (the water cycle)
- a flowering plant (the plant cycle)
- a similar food item or something from nature
- something interesting you have found

Publish your story!

Things to consider:

- What will your title be?
- How will you plan your story?
- How will you present your story?

You could write it, illustrate it, make a picture book, cartoon strip, use ICT or any form you wish!