LO: to write a balanced argument

Read P20-21 Ug invents the stone wheel.

Ug has been repeatedly frustrated in his attempts at inventing throughout the book, either being unable to access materials or breakthrough his community's traditions to try out ideas, or inventing things that don't work the way he envisaged (like his stone boat) or creating something that works, like his wheel, but that he has no practical application for.

Do you think he should give up on his invention or keep working on it?

Write a balanced argument including an opening statement/question, a paragraph of reasons for, a paragraph of reasons against and a concluding sentence offering your opinion.
