

Literacy – 12.7.21

Monday	THREADS COSTUME DESIGN WORKSHOP 9-10.30
Tuesday	L.O: To write a playscript about mistaken identity. Linking to our current class text and Shakespearean play, the Comedy of Errors I would like you to write your own playscript about mistaken identity. Maybe you could base your play on two identical twins? Can you remember the Bug Club book we read Double Trouble? This story is based on mistaken identity. I have set this book for you all to read on Bug Club to help you with your playscripts. Make sure you include all the features of a playscript.
Wednesday	L.O: To work out who stole the Emoji's colour? Use your knowledge of spelling, grammar and punctuation to work out who stole the Emoji's colour. Answer the questions and use the clues to work out the culprit.
Thursday	L.O: To write your own ending for the Wild Robot Escapes. In class, we have been reading the Wild Robot Escapes. If you were the author, and chosen to write an ending for the story, what would you write? What might happen to Roz and Brightbill? Will they make it back to the island in one piece? Will the island be the same as when they left it? Will the RECO's return? Will Chitchat return? Will Roz ever see the Shareef's again? You decide!
Friday	L.O: An A-Z of my school year task. Look back at all the things that you have learnt and experienced and record an idea beginning with each letter of the alphabet. Think about: favourite topic, favourite book, proudest moment, funniest memory, new skills, special responsibilities, school clubs, favourite places.
