Our School Value

Dear Parents and Carers,

As we come to the end of another successful week, I have been reflecting on how well the children have settled back into school life during the first few weeks of the autumn term. It has been wonderful to see them quickly re-establishing routines, building positive relationships and embracing their learning with enthusiasm. Our classrooms have been buzzing with activity, curiosity and excited conversation as learning gets fully underway. The children have shown great engagement and a real eagerness to explore new topics and challenges. Today also marked the first of our Board Game Afternoons, which was very well attended. It was heartening to see so many children and families enjoying time together, engaged in active play, laughter and friendly competition. Opportunities such as these help strengthen our sense of community and remind us of the importance of simply spending time together and having fun. Wishing you all a wonderful weekend, Mrs Charman
